MORETOLAW TERMS AND CONDITIONS

General

The use of the Moretolaw website (the "Site") is subject to the following terms and conditions and by using the Site, you agree to these terms of use in full. You understand and agree that these terms of use constitute the entire agreement between Moretolaw Limited and yourself in respect of your use of the Site and supersede any and all prior arrangements, agreements and representations.

The Site, its design and contents are all copyright Moretolaw Limited 2018. Moretolaw Limited grants individual users of the Site a non-exclusive personal licence to view and copy the material on the Site solely for personal and non-commercial use, revocable by Moretolaw Limited at any time without notice. You agree not to reproduce material on the Site other than in accordance with such licence and, without limitation, not to reproduce any information on the Site on any other website or in any other form. We assert all our intellectual property rights in our Site, including its look and feel.

"Moretolaw", "Moretolaw.com" and "Moretolaw.co.uk" and other domain name variations of Moretolaw are trading names of Moretolaw Limited, a company incorporated in England and Wales with registered number 7078506. Its registered office is 13 Alverstone Avenue, London SW19 8BD.

Moretolaw Limited reserves the right to change these terms of use at any time without notice. Any such changes will be displayed on this page of the Site.

Privacy policy

Please read our privacy policy which sets out the way in which Moretolaw Limited will hold and deal with any personal data which you provide to Moretolaw.

Indemnity

You agree to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Moretolaw Limited from any and all losses, liabilities, claims, damages, expenses or costs asserted by any third party in connection with your use of the Site.

Limitation and exclusion of liability

Moretolaw Limited is committed to providing accurate and up-to-date content on the Site. However this cannot be guaranteed and Moretolaw's liabilities are excluded and/or limited as set out below. The content of the Site is provided for information purposes only and you should not rely upon it in making or refraining from making any decision or taking any action.

You agree that your use of the Site is entirely at your own risk. No warranty of any type is given by Moretolaw Limited as to the accuracy or completeness of any information provided on the Site.

Moretolaw Limited excludes to the fullest extent permitted by law all warranties, conditions, terms and undertakings, expressed or implied, whether by statute, common law, custom, trade usage, course of dealings or otherwise (whether as a consequence of its negligence or otherwise) arising in connection with your use of the site and any aspect of its service or information, whether that information be correct or otherwise.

No advice or information, whether oral or written, obtained by you in connection with the Site will create any warranty not expressly stated in these terms and conditions.

Each user of the Site hereby agrees that he or she is owed no duty of care or other obligation by Moretolaw Limited and that insofar as he or she may be owed any such duty or obligation, he or she waives any rights which he or she may have in respect of such duty or obligation.

The Website will contain links to and content from other internet sites and resources from time to time. Moretolaw Limited cannot control such content and you agree that Moretolaw Limited is not responsible for such content. Moretolaw Limited cannot endorse products or services offered by third parties through such content.

These terms of use and your use of the Site are governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales and the Courts of England and Wales shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine any dispute in connection with such terms or use of the Website.
